R E P O R T

on Activities of Info-Open Arms Service
(May 1966)

BINH - DUONG

PART ONE.-

I.- General situation in the locality.-

Highlights of the month :

1/ Change of two district chiefs :

- Major Ngo-Thien-Thang handed over the duty of Binh-Duong capital district chief to Captain Truong-van-Phuc on April 27, 1966.

- Captain Nguyen-The-Binh handed over the duty of Ben-Cat district chief to Captain Nguyen-Hue on May 10, 1966.

2/ Inauguration of 3 New Life hamlets : Binh-Thoi, Binh-Diem and Phu-Thuan, belonging to Phu-Hoa village, Chau-Thanh district, on May 10, 1966.

II.- Enemy situation :

1/ Enemy activities :

a) Political :

During the reporting month, taking advantage of the state of disturbance within our ranks, and on the occasion of two important communist anniversaries - May 1st and May 19 - the enemy intensified political activities much more strongly than the previous months. Particularly he incited Michelin plantation (Dau-Tieng) workers to make demonstrations to set forth claims, and at the same time, he planned to agitate Buddhists in the locality to hold demonstrations in support of the struggle force in Central Vietnam. But the local authorities and security services succeeded in timely checking those agitation schemes, thus nullifying VC influence. Those were the most noteworthy political activities of the enemy, beside the too old tricks he usually applied.

b) Economic :

Just as in the previous months, the enemy still resorted to every maneuver and coercive measure to rob the people's rice and money, namely :

- Compel car owners, land owners, landlords, etc... to pay him periodical or special taxes.
- Force the people living in areas under his control to pay monthly fees.
- Levy taxes on all kinds of goods, from cigarettes to refreshments.
- Sabotage economic establishments and policies of ours.

c) Military :

Because there were important (communist) anniversaries during the reporting month, the VC have used armed force to support their political propaganda operations; as a concrete proof, they shelled the U.S. First Division barracks at Phu-Loi in the May 21 night; yet they met with bitter failure because our troops counter-acted in time. Besides, there were usual sabotaging activities such as : digging roads, setting up mounds, destroying electric poles, blowing up mines, etc...

2/ Enemy activities' influence among the people :

Although the enemy has made every effort to give an echo to his political and military activities among the people, he failed to create a noteworthy influence, partly because we have taken preventive measures and succeeded in timely coping with those activities, and partly because the people have been aware of the enemy's schemes of sabotage and destruction. One can even say that the people felt hatred for the enemy.

3/ VC propaganda themes :

- Call upon workers to struggle for salary increase
- Instigate hatred between the people and the Allied Forces, particularly U.S. and Korean soldiers.
- Enhance the National Front for the Liberation of South Vietnam and call upon youths to join the Front ranks.

- Oppose Americans, claim peace and neutrality.
- Distort War Cabinet's stands and policies.
- Incite Allied Forces' soldiers to oppose war and claim repatriation.
- Call upon the compatriots to pay them taxes, youths to join their armed force.
- Call upon students and schoolboys to stand up to struggle.

III.- Friendly situation.-

1/ Local administration's activities :

a) Political :

Attack the enemy on the propaganda plane under various forms : informal talks, explanations, studies for the people, broadcasting, civilian-proselyting at various New Life hamlets and among civil servants and cadres of various echelons in the province, and coordination with various branches to gain over people's sympathy and struggle with the enemy for political preponderance in various areas, especially the contested ones.

b) Economic :

Grant breeding fish, pig-feeding corn, domestic animal to peasants to push forward the revolutionary development program.

On the other hand, the local authorities laid particular emphasis on enemy economy blockade and on speculation checking to stabilize the cost of living. The provincial Supply section operated strongly enough to assure a regular distribution of foodstuffs, especially the ones affected by shortage in the local market.

c) Cultural, social :

During the reporting month, Chau-Thanh district built two new schools : one at Hoa-My hamlet, Dinh-Hoa village, the other at Binh-Thoai hamlet, Phu-Hoa village. Lai-Thieu district also completed the construction of two new schools in the same period of time : one at Thanh-Loi hamlet, the other at Thanh-Hoa A hamlet, An-Thanh village.

In addition, the local authorities have granted to peasants breeding fish, pig corn and sugar cane plants to develop agricultural production. As to the anti-communist refugees especially, the Social Welfare service has organized distribution of gifts in their favour, and regularly visited them to give them help in every respect according to their needs. Particularly in the recent past, the Army-Supporting Committee in Binh-Duong province came right to military and civilian hospitals to comfort wounded soldiers, and to war dead's families to present condolences.

d) Military :

Regularly organize ambushes and mopping-up operations, especially during the period of time preceding

...../6.....

and following the enemy's important anniversaries. Due to our units' careful prevention, the enemy failed to gather enough troops to open (big) operations.

2/ Remarks :

Thanks to the Allied Forces' efforts, our Army has succeeded in extending the secure perimeter, controlling Road 13 until Ben-Cat district, smashing the enemy's schemes and attempts of infiltration and sabotage. Because of that, administrative operations, carried on side by side with military ones and tending toward rural pacification and social improvement, produced good influence among the people, which influence even extended to contested areas; and as a result, the people as well as VC cadres and troops crossed over to the national government's side in increasing numbers day after day.

However, the enemy still went on with his guerilla activities, surreptitiously burst into New Life hamlets - especially the near-mountain remote ones - to perpetrate acts of terror, assassinations, blow up mines, carry out sabotage, make propaganda and organize basic establishments.

IV.- VIS activities.-

1/ Cadres' morale :

a) Serving spirit :

Most cadres are animated with a high serving

...../7.....

spirit and goodwill, and to satisfactorily the task to them entrusted, they are always willing to make every effort, regardless of dangers and hardships, and display initiative spirit to overcome obstacles and difficulties.

b) Behaviour, discipline spirit :

Everyone behaves in a correct and proper manner, thus contributing to enhance the branch's prestige.

c) State of mind :

- Regarding task : Hope the higher echelons pay (more) attention (to cadres) and regularly go down to rural areas to encourage, comfort and assist them in their difficult and perilous task.

- Regarding material life : In view of their too low salary as compared with the cost of living, the cadres' material life is very hard - especially those who have to make frequent task trips. This evidently has a bad influence over their morale.

d) Study and education : Working meetings are regularly organized at provincial and district VIS every week and every month, to help improve cadres' knowledge, review task, exchange experiences. In addition, there are study seances with civil servants and cadres of other branches, to help cadres thoroughly understand line, policy and current events, so that they can carry out their task correctly, in accordance with its objective.

On the other hand, VTS by turns sends cadres up to the Central level to follow further training courses in order to build up standpoint and reasoning.

2/ Chieu-Hoi and enemy-proselyting task :

The "Chieu-Hoi" and enemy-proselyting task was pushed forward side by side with military operations, under the following forms : leaflets, night broadcasting, posters, returnees' confidential letters addressed to their old comrades, establishing relationship with families having relatives in VC ranks and persuading them to call upon the latter to return to the Just Cause. As a result, 12 VC cadres and troops crossed over to the national side during the reporting month.

- Composition :

- 1 guerrilla cell leader
- 3 guerrilla members
- 3 Q.3 main force soldiers
- 1 propaganda cadre
- 1 production brigade member
- 1 village Commo-liaison member
- 2 female guerrillas.

- Weapons turned in :

- 1 Thompson and 2 belts
- 2 Communist China-made CKC carbines and 210 bullets

- 1 Russian-made rifle and 9 bullets
- 3 M.26 grenades
- 2 home-made grenades
- and a certain number of documents.

3/ Plans during the month :

- Attack and counter-attack the VC on the propaganda plane, by condemning the South Vietnam National Liberation Front's acts of terror, assassination, sabotage, robbery and laying bare its people-agitating schemes.
- Promote People-Armed Forces National Convention.
- Stabilize political situation troubled by popular agitations.
- Exploit military victories of the ARVN and Allied Forces.
- Push forward psyops for the benefit of the "Open Arms" campaign.
- Support rural pacification work.

V.- Propaganda themes.-

- Condemn VC acts of abducting, murdering innocent people, blowing up passenger cars, destroying bridges and roads.
- Oppose VC tax levying and pressganging.
- Completion of the rural pacification and revolutionary development program will bring about VC defeat.

- Display military victories of the ARVN and Allied Forces.

- "Chieu-Hoi" is the only path leading to life.

- Allow VC troops and cadres to build up a new life.

VI.- Task results.-

- Stationary broadcasting	:	246 seances
- Mobile broadcasting	:	82 places
- Popular political studies	:	22 seances - 4,750 at.

- "Chieu-Hoi" leaflets scattered : 100,000
- People taking part in rural pacification community development task through agitation : 724 persons
- Information stations set up : 2

VII.- General Situation.-

a) Public opinion :

Hate the VC for having perpetrated acts of terror and sabotage, occasioned too many sufferings and mournings, hindered people's business, thus making them meet with economic difficulties; believe in the National Leadership Committee's and War Cabinet's goodwill to stabilize the political situation, reconcile and unite nationalist forces to win over the Communists, build up democracy, progress toward election by the people of a Constituent Assembly and Government.

b) State of mind :

Although feeling hatred for the Communists and afflicted in the face of national turmoil, protracted war and exhausted economy, most people were longing for peace.

VIII.- Remarks and Suggestions.-

1/ Local situation :

Military activities of the enemy were weak, as compared with the previous month's; the political situation in the locality was relatively stable, being not affected by recent turmoil, thanks to a close prevention plan; and due to the Allied Forces' effective support, the governmental control sphere and secure perimeter have been extended.

It is necessary to intensify guerrilla activities to annihilate enemy underground organizations in order to protect newly pacified areas and prevent enemy retaliation.

2/ Information task :

At present in the locality, information operations - as well as other administrative activities - are limited to secure zone. As to the contested areas, cadres can operate there only in daytime and with lightning speed, and should get armed force's support. This is a very complex problem which hinders the task and prevents it from producing much influence among the masses.

It is necessary to increase the number of male cadres experienced in rural operations to guarantee task effectiveness.

3/ Difficulties, obstacles :

People's tiredness and peace-seeking attitude, added to fear of enemy terror and assassination, make the task of agitating the masses - especially to take part in community development projects - very difficult. The problem of security is a big obstacle : low-level cadres, for fear of menace against their own life, dare not operate actively. Besides, cadres' too low salary - in comparison with the cost of living - disastrously affects their serving spirit. It is necessary to seek means to help, encourage and comfort cadres.

...../13.....
